Conditions of application

Applicant's obligations

The Applicant (Burial Right Holder) must comply with all rules and regulations that may apply to the operation of the cemetery. Council may vary its rules and regulations at any time, in any manner deemed appropriate.

Burial Rights

Graves (and ashes memorialisation in gravesite)

The purchase of a new grave acquires a Burial Right to a particular grave. The Burial Right is a right to be buried in that grave and the right to authorise the burial of others in the grave (up to the number permitted in that grave as determined by Council).

The Right may not be sold and is not transferable or transmissible by death. A Burial Right for a gravesite can be surrendered to Council. Upon surrender, Council will pay the Burial Right Holder of a gravesite or their estate up to 80% of the original purchase price of the grave.

On the death of the Burial Right Holder the authority to authorise burials in a grave reverts to Council. Council will permit, in its absolute discretions, a spouse, child, partner, relative, direct descendant, legal representative or friend of the Burial Right holder to be buried in the grave provided however that it has no reason to believe that the Burial Right Holder would have objected.

Under no circumstances is a person permitted to enter into a gravesite to carry out works without written approval from Council. This is to make sure the Workplace Health and Safety Act provisions are complied with.

Ashes memorial Garden or Columbarium Wall (Niche)

Council will maintain a niche for a period of seventy years from the time it is first used for the disposal of ashes. After seventy years, we may remove a niche and demolish a columbarium or garden of remembrance. Unless claimed by a descendant of the deceased person, we will bury the contents of niches and inscription plates in a general Garden of Remembrance. This is free of charge.

Plaques and plaque bases

All plaques and bases for lawn cemeteries must be installed by Council. Flat granite and marble bases for lawn graves may be supplied by monumental masons (provided bases are to Council's specifications).

We accept no responsibility for the maintenance of any plaque or monument that may be constructed on the grave. The plaques and monuments will always remain the responsibility of the Burial Right Holder or his or her family and descendants. We reserve the right to remove any plaque or monument (after due notice to family or descendants) the condition of which renders it dangerous to cemetery staff or visitors.

Council acts in good faith when it relies on advice provided by the Applicant and does not accept any responsibility for allowing a burial that might be the subject of a later dispute between family members.
