Policy title: CULTURAL DEVELOPMENT

Directorate: COMMUNITY SERVICES
Branch: LIBRARIES & CREATIVE INDUSTRIES

Policy objective: To provide the principles to guide and inform the further integration of cultural development into Logan City Council processes, procedures and activities, as defined in the current Corporate Plan.

Policy scope:

1. Preamble
   Logan City Council’s current Corporate Plan recognises the direct contribution which cultural development makes to the community’s quality of life, sense of identity and future opportunities. This policy provides the framework for Council to manage cultural development.

2. Definition and context
   (a) For the purposes of this policy, the word “cultural” applies to all aspects of societal or community activities which contribute significantly to:
      (i) creative expression and appreciation
      (ii) a sense of place and community identity
      (iii) heritage, recreation and entertainment
      (iv) the appreciation and celebration of diversity together with quality of life enhancement
      (v) the spirit of reconciliation within the City of Logan.
   (b) The revised Logan’s Cultural Map 2011, reflects past projects and future directions.
   (c) Cultural programs will generally be:
      (i) artforms
      (ii) community events and celebrations
      (iii) preservation of Indigenous and other cultural history and diversity
      (iv) focus on social and environmental linkages.
   (d) The cultural map must be considered as an ever-evolving basis on which to develop strategies, processes and projects that reflect its underlying aims as well as those of the community services policy, where relevant.

3. Aims
   The aims of this policy are to:
   (a) build community capacity

Following is an indicative list of cultural projects and initiatives or activities including:

- visual arts and crafts
- theatre and performance
- literature
- poetry
- film and television
- music
- festivals, community celebrations, historical and social history exhibitions and displays
- Indigenous and multicultural events and activities
- digital arts and new media events
- regional history and heritage.

The basis of these projects can range from individual ‘artists’ creating new works in their chosen field to major concerts, exhibitions or performances; from practical workshops for both professional arts practitioners and amateurs alike to facilitating the attendance of local artists or cultural workers at major conferences or significant cultural events; from a research project investigating cultural history, local heritage or contemporary cultural experience to an Internet event or ‘presentation’ which exposes local talent to the vast audience of the world wide web; or from the earliest development or planning stages of a cultural activity or project to the re-assessment, re-presentation and/or re-interpretation or an existing creative ‘work’ or cultural practice. The participants in these projects can be from very diverse backgrounds, reflecting the vibrancy of our community in terms of age, gender, ethnicity, cultural history and profession or areas of interest.
